Implemented by

Peru Forestry Figures

- FOREST COVER + 67 mio ha in Amazon, 4th largest tropical forest in world
 - + Very high biodiversity, specifically tree diversity
- HARVESTABLE FOREST + 25 mio ha for permanent timber production (concessions)
 - + 12,5 mio ha native community lands harvesting permits
 - ALLOCATED + 7.4 mio ha, less than 50% not valid anymore (OSINFOR)
 - PRODUCTION + 2.1 mio m3 roundwood
 - MAIN PRODUCTS + Sawn timber, parquet, plywood
- MAIN EXPORT MARKETS + China, US, Mexico, Dominican Republic
 - CORRUPTION P. INDEX + 36

Forest Governance

- AUTHORITIES + National Forest Service (SERFOR) in Ministry of Agriculture and Irrigation (MINAGRI) - production forests (natural & plantations)
 - National Service for Protected Areas (SERNANP) and National Forest Conservation and Climate Change Mitigation Program (PNCBMCC) in Ministry of Environment (MINAM) – conservation forests
 - + OSINFOR supervision and control of public lands (concessions, assignment contracts a.o.) and private lands (permission e.g. native communities, not plantations)

- POLICY REFORMS + Restructuring and decentralizing forest governance and administration ->annex FTA US-Peru
 - New forestry and wildlife law no. 29763 came into force 2013, in 2015 four additional regulations re. enforcement

Funded by

Problems

- HISTORY + No industrial boom like Brazil or Bolivia in Peru
 - + Previously bad forestry regulations and no control
 - + Forests were skimmed off esp. Mahogany and Cedar

- TODAY + Most logging still illegal (Osinfor: 68% of concessions)
 - + Involves all: government, enterprises, traders, smallholders
 - Overlapping land claims (mining, farming, forestry) due competing mandates and powers related to land use

- ILLEGAL PRACTICES + Harvesting inflated volumes/ha and invented trees
 - Timber laundered with documents with false information

FSC certified area in Peru

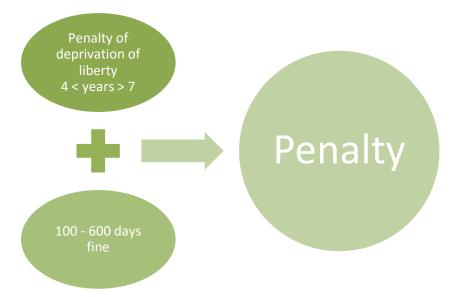

Risks to export timber from illegal origin

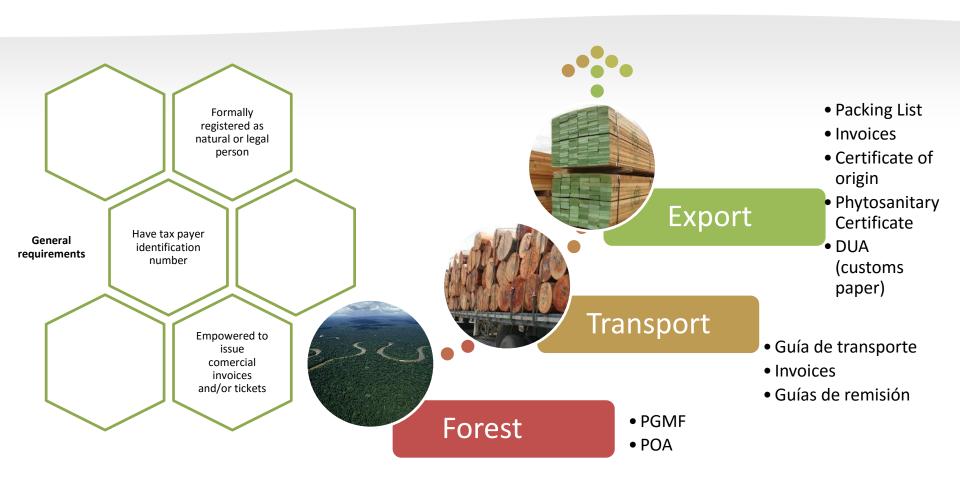

Persons who export illegal timber incur crimes regulated in legislative decree N°1237, article 310-A.
